

Chapter 10. IT'S IN THE BIBLE: VOLUME 2

Jesus is the first who spoke of God as his Father, and the first who also taught those who believed in Him that they, also, could know that God is their father. (Matthew 6) No prophet before Jesus, and Jesus is more than a prophet, and He is the Son of God, but no one spoke of God as their Father before Jesus. Jesus said, "When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am he." (John 8:28) Jesus was describing his crucifixion. Jesus was always telling those who were listening about future things that will happen. He was lifted up. He was nailed to the cross and then they lifted him up. Why was He called the Son of Man? I believe it was because He was the first-born son of mankind. First-born sons inherit all of the inheritance.

You can't stop God from talking to you, but you can stop listening.

Sin must break through the wall of faith.

The only reason a person may risk his life is when he thinks it's worth it.
